TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that Ms. Mrityika Nandi, currently a final year MS student from the Indian Association for the Cultivation of Science, Kolkata, did a research project under my supervision in summer 2022. The project was on modelling and predicting the airlines delay and she used various machine learning techniques, for example, Ridge regression, Lasso, Elastic Net for her work. The work is substantial and publishable. A copy of this project report can be obtained on request.

If there is any question on this, please feel free to contact me.

With best regards.
